THERE WILL BE NO ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES ALLOWED INTO THE DEMO GROUNDS.

There will be no tolerance of open containers due to the beer garden and state regulations requiring security to be highly enforced. There will be absolutely no tolerance for poor sportsmanship and bad conduct. Please see Extra Information page for Minors and Extra Drivers.

Moses Lake Demo Rules

2 Man Team 80s Derby

Demo Cars Only

If you are running a 77-79 GM please call Mike Bise @ 509-431-4212 to verify car make and model is okay to run. If it isn't in the rules, don't try it or call to see if you can.

1980 and Newer Cars or GM Metric 77-79

If using a GM 77-79 it must be a metric car. Like Impala, Olds Cutlass, Pontiac Prestine.

No 77" Monte Carlo's, and No 77" Malibu cars.

$200 per Team Non-Refundable
20 Teams Max

Need Make, Model, and Year of car.

This show will be teched by Dan Nelson and his crew.

Social Security Number is required for payout at the end of the night.

The Team colors will be first come first serve.

Your team will pick 3 colors. If the first color is taken then your alternate colors will be used. If they are also taken you will receive a phone call to have you choose a new color/colors. You may have a team name if you would like. Keep it clean!

When color is issued the whole car will be that color except lettering. Unless the car ends up having 2 colors. Then the car will be painted half one color and half the other.

The cars after being teched will enter a roped off area. You may do things like charge batteries and add fluid but NO major work. The cars need to come ready. No power on site! We will have a couple of generators so you can charge batteries.

SAFETY is a BIG thing with this event!

With the amount of things you can do to your car we need to Remember Safety. It will be a long, hard hitting, edge of your seat kind of demo.

If your car does not pass inspection it will not enter the fair grounds.

Dan will be providing a ramp to drive cars up on for inspection. What Dan and his crew say will be final. If they say it's not going to run then it's not going to run.

So please build a car to the rules, not to the gray area or you will be just wasting your time!

You must have a # board on the roof.

Construction

#1

Door bars both sides of cars with plates on the inside of the car.

They need to be bolted with at least 5 bolts on each one.

Must be at least 5/8 bolts.

They can extend 6 inches past door seam.

Prefer channel at least 6".

If using grader bits ... must have 2 each side.

If using channel, the sharp side needs to be towards the car.

Bars inside of car.

Dash bar is required. It needs to go from side to side. With plates bolted in or welded. Needs to be 2" outside diameter or bigger.

Cross bar behind the driver's seat needs to be bolted to the outside of the car. It also needs to be 2" outside diameter or bigger. It needs to have a plate on each end of it at least 4" square.

#2

2 uprights or an H bar or outside halo bars are okay. They need to be mounted to the floor and roof with plates welded to them. 2" outside diameter minimum or bigger. No welding or bolting to the frame. You may connect your cross bar or dash bar to the outside bars. No kickers. On all bars you may use square tubing instead of round tubing.

Gas tank needs to be covered and mounted to the rear floor. No bailing wire. If ratchet straps are used, you need to use 4 of them. And if the inspector does not approve you will be asked to change them For Safety. Do not mount to any part of frame.

Stock gas tank must be removed.

If using a gas tank protector, it must be at least 4" from back seat firewall.

Batteries need to be secured with something other than bungee cords or ratchet straps. Can be mounted in a box or with angle iron and all thread. They must be covered. Tech man may ask you to change if it's not safe.

#3

Front hood and rear trunk Lid

Bumper straps 2 - 1 1/2 x 1/4 "

Straps can be welded or bolted with 3/8 bolts to bumper to hood once it is touching bumper can only be 2" longer. Same with on the hood. They cannot be closer together than 2 feet. So from center of car 12" one way 12" from center the other way.

Hood and trunk may be bolted down with 6 points of tie down each or 6 chains.

1" All thread or bolts with 2 going through or welded to the frame. Front of car and the same on the trunk. Plate size 4" no bigger. Do not weld them to the car.

The core support pucks may be removed. No others!

No other body bolts may be added.

#4

The front window will need to have some sort of screen on it at least halfway across the car.

You may run 2 bars from roof to firewall or hood with one bolt each end 3/8 bolts. No more than 3" wide no more than 3/8 thick. Same on trunks. Must not go past the back of hood and top of the roof more than 4 inches, same with the trunk.

So yes, it creates 2 more hood tie downs. So now you have 8 total.

Steering or trailing arms may not be reinforced in any way. A-arms must be of that make of car.

Ford to Ford, GM to GM. As long as it is a bolt on no modifications.

You may remove ball joints and use bolts. No welding them.

Ride height. You may weld bolts in springs or put wood blocks or use chain. You may not weld arms to frame.

You may cut the firewall for distributor. Must cover it with rubber.

#5

Radiators must remain in stock location

Trunk tucking is allowed.

You may notch the frame.

Frame bending in the rear of car is ok.

No tilting the front of the car. No pre-bending the front frame.

You may crease body. Pound the sides of the car flat.

Roll corners of fenders is ok.

6 - 3/8 bolt per fender well. You may trim the fender wells.

Hoods can be rolled.

You may weld the doors shut.

You may use a 2 inch by 1/8-inch strap for welding doors shut.

Welding

#1

You may weld all existing factory welded seams, firewall forward top and bottom. One Pass.

No puddling or dimpling or V-ing of frame.

No more than 1/2" wide welds.

So, don't weld inner fenders to frame or core support to frame.

No fillers will be used in welding.

On a pinch frame car, you can pull the pucks but not weld the 2 frame members together.

No frame stuffing or tilting or pre-bending the frame, anything from the front of the rear tires forward.

Any stock style car bumper may be used. Hardnosed or shocks welded to frame. Shocks may not extend more than 10" past the front of the frame. Along the side or top of the frame. No fillers will be used when welding the shocks.

Cross member may be welded in. Any OEM cross member is ok.

Motor straps 1 1/2 x 1/4 can be welded to frame. No more than 1" can touch and be welded to frame.

#2

Welding of Car

Changing motors motor mounts can be welded in as long as they are not structural to the car.

Do not weld holes shut in frame.

WHAT YOU CANNOT DO!!!

#1

You cannot do these things or run these items:

No transmission protectors

No transmission braces other than a OEM cross member

No distributor Protectors

No stuffing the frame or reinforcing the frame in any way

No coil spring to leaf spring swap

No truck rear-ends. No floaters.

Must only be 5 lug rear ends

No homemade bumpers

Do not "Mount anything to frame" such as batteries, gas tank, seat belts, bars, seat. "(No Johnson Cradles)" - No other cradles other than what is stock.

Things You Can Run

Any tires, any rims. Stem protection is okay.

Throttle assembly

Shifter assembly

Transmission coolers as long as they are covered and lines are safe.

Air shocks, Electric fuel pumps, Electric fans

After market steering columns Slider shafts are okay to use.

Lower engine cradles and pulley protectors are okay to use. As long as they are not adding structure to frame. They must not be touching the firewall.

Hump chains are allowed.

You may weld the outer skin of the bumper to the inner part of the bumper.

Things You Must Do

Have a working fire extinguisher.

Seat belts that work 5 pts would be the best, NOT mounted to frame,

Front window screen, Driver side window net would be nice.

Cover gas tank and batteries.

All holes in firewall need to be covered.

Clean out all doors ((No Glass)).

All interior must be removed, including dash.

All trim and breakables on outside of car must be removed.

Hood must have a one-foot inspection hole cut in the center of it.
